

Em-Trio thrill Dimapur

Em Trio (above) posing for an exclusive photo-shoot for Nagaland Page immediately after their evening's performance at the Centre Stage, Notun Bosti, Monday evening. (Bottom from L - R) The Guitarist, the Drummer and the Bassist of Em Trio in action at the Centre Stage here. (Page Photo)

Page Staffer

DIMAPUR, FEBRUARY 2: Till recently, jazz, hip-hop, rap, R&B other similar stuff failed to be digested by the meat-hungry Naga community, whose daily menu appeared to be mostly or always, non-vegetarian. But, today, these forms of music appear to be taking 'Centre Stage' - evident from the response the Italian trio evoked from the Dimapur crowd during their single performance at Centre Stage venue Monday evening where Dimapurians were treated to a musical evening of pure classical music, comprising from Marchesini, Martino and Menconi - whose surnames all end in 'M' - the result being the 'Em - or M Trio'.

While all members of the band are supposed to be respected and reputed in their own rights, the lead guitarist of the 'Em Trio', Allesio Menconi, who boasts of a bald, shiny pate and his virtuosity in guitar skills, reminiscent of the legendary guitar maestro, Joe Satriani, dubbed the 'Grandfather of the Guitar', took 'centre stage' with his sheer virtuosity and control of the guitar, while his colleagues also received tremendous applause from the audience.

After the impromptu performance of the 'Afro Dizzi Act', held at NH-39 Go-Karting, the Em Trio has been acknowledged as the most 'happening band' to perform in this Hollywood-savvy world.